

Academic Support – each Air Force Base has an education center and library. Students are encouraged to use these resources because even if the base does not have a resource, they are networked to other military installations that can offer support.

Other support services – CPE students are always encouraged to seek counseling as a way to provide self-care. Each Air Force Base has a MilitaryOneSource as a resource as well as Mental Health.